

AMERICAN "BOMB LINE" IS NORTH OF 38TH PARALLEL AND WILL STAY AHEAD OF FRIENDLY TROOPS

Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, Commander of Far East Forces, Refuses to Discuss Orders Given to South Korean Ground Forces.

By Howard Handelman
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)
TOKYO, Oct. 3.—(INS)—Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, commander of the Far East Air Forces, said today the American "bomb line" is north of the 38th Parallel and will stay "ahead of friendly troops wherever they are."

The general refused to discuss whether South Korean ground forces had been authorized to cross the Parallel which was established by the United Nations as the boundary between North and South Korea.

Sketching the results of the aerial war thus far, Stratemeyer said the 18 foremost strategic targets in North Korea had been neutralized. He added that only three per cent of the FEAF's total effort was needed for these strategic targets.

"However it is common knowledge that the enemy's principal sources of war material were off limits to our bombers," he added.

Stratemeyer said that 61.5 per cent of all FEAF sorties during July were close battlefield support missions. He said it was not until early August that the ground situation stabilized sufficiently to "permit the execution of the bomber command's plan for interdiction of the enemy's rail, highway and transportation network."

The general said the strategic targets included industrial centers. He said 33 marshalling yards were destroyed, 376 bridges downed or damaged, 152 enemy aircraft destroyed or damaged and 5,233 trucks or vehicles destroyed or damaged.

Stratemeyer announced that the FEAF bomb line had swung far north of the border along the eastern coast and added that he had learned from newspapers that friendly forces had crossed on the east coast.

He said the bomb line crosses the Parallel a little less than 40 miles from Korea's east coast and turns sharply northeast to a point just below Changjin, 52 miles north of the line of demarcation.

The FEAF commander pointed out that intensive air reconnaissance so far had failed to uncover any important Communist ground movements anywhere in North Korea which would indicate the Reds' Continued on Page Four

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

The Soviet bloc introduced in the United Nations General Assembly's Political Committee a resolution for peace in Korea. It called for an immediate end of fighting, withdrawal of all non-Korean troops and a commission made up equally of North and South Koreans to prepare national elections. The voting would be supervised by a United Nations body on which Moscow and Communist China would be represented. Western spokesmen said the resolution ignored the fact that North Korea had been branded an aggressor. Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky presented papers which he said had been captured in an effort to prove that the South Koreans had attacked North Korea.

Communist China's interest in North Korea was explained on economic as well as political grounds. The Japanese look for a business boom from the rebuilding of Korea. E. C. A. officials criticized Italy's financial policy, saying it retarded recovery by restricting business and keeping unemployment high. A group of American consultants in Iran found fault with that nation's construction efforts.

LIST EVENTS WINNERS

The Bucks County Federation of Model Clubs model meet held Sunday at the Model Airport at Bristol attracted entries from clubs from Hathor, Newtown, Bristol, Croydon, and Perkasie. Nearly 50 models of several types were flown. Most popular event was the Standard Speed event with David Baker of the Bristol Aeromodelers and Mrs. Frank Horn of the Hathor Aeromodelers taking top places.

Later, on an unofficial test flight the model entered a current of rising air and remained in sight of the contestants on the field for 10 minutes but was followed by other observers who saw the model pass over Bristol a half hour later and disappear out of sight several thousand feet in the air.

The team racing event was not held since there were only four entries in this event, three from Newtown and one from Hathor. The next meet scheduled will be held at Quakertown and will be for team racing only but will be open to all contestants and not just those of the Bucks County Clubs. It will be held on October 15th.

Want Fire Marshal Named As A Deputy Sheriff

NEWTOWN, Oct. 3.—The Bucks County Firemen's Association ended a stormy special meeting here last night by appointing a committee which will try to have their fire marshal appointed to the post of deputy sheriff.

Robert Graham, Chalfont fire chief, was elected marshal by the association last year. A spokesman for the association says Graham has been serving without pay and has not been appointed to the paying post of deputy sheriff, which previous fire marshals have held.

The committee of fire chiefs, which includes, C. A. Russell, Trevose Heights, C. Steiner, Falls township, and P. McBride, Feasterville, will call on Sheriff Harry Ross and ask for Graham's appointment.

A further suggestion brought up at the meeting was that the association spend funds for political activities.

About 65 firemen from 21 companies attended last night's session. Robert O'Neill, of the Cornwells company, presided.

BOLTON AND PATTON FARMS ON ITINERARY

50 Take Part in Bucks Co.
Natural Science Society
Field Trip

LUNCH AT LANGHORNE

Bucks County Natural Science Association held a most interesting field day, Saturday, with about 50 participating. Edward A. Rhine and Frederic Streland, both of Langhorne, were leaders.

The first stop was at the Bolton Farm, Emille. The association had visited there in August, 1933, and July, 1940. Many changes have taken place. The 500 acres which William Penn deeded to Phineas Pemberton in 1682 were in the hands of Pemberton descendants up to the late 1930's, when Effingham B. Morris (the 7th generation) died. He left most of the farm to the University of Pennsylvania for research work (various laboratory tests on animals). The mansion, which was built in 1790 and added to in 1820, was willed to some of his family, who later sold their rights to the University of Pennsylvania, which, therefore, now owns the whole property.

Dr. Arnold Gilman said, "Research is now carried out mainly on a virus disease of horses—a sort of anemia, at the north part of Bolton. At the south part, called Winter section, a federal project is being carried out dealing with diseases of Guernsey cattle. Dr. John Walker, in this respect, works not only in the laboratory there, but

BRISTOL YOUTH IS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT IN BACK

David Dunkelberger, 18, Accidentally Wounded
By Friend

CONDITION IS GOOD

Three Youths Practicing At Rifle Range Near Lake

An 18-year-old Bristol youth was shot accidentally by a friend yesterday following a target practice session near Silver Lake.

David Dunkelberger, of 32 Fleetwing road, was taken to Abington Hospital where doctors say his condition is good. David's mother says that he may be able to come home today.

The youth and two friends, Harry Cross, 18, of Schumacher drive, Terrace I., and Herbert Weida, Court D, Terrace II., were shooting a 22 rifle at the practice range near the lake. As they were walking back to the car, Cross "pumped" the gun to see if it was empty.

The gun went off, and a bullet glanced off the ground and hit David as he was getting into the car. The bullet struck him in the back, about an inch to the right of his spine.

Cross and Weida drove their injured friend to Bristol, where they met Officer Michael Angelo in the police patrol car. Angelo escorted the three youths to Harriman Hospital.

Dr. George Fox reported that the bullet missed vital areas. At Abington hospital, where David was later taken by the Bucks County Rescue Squad, doctors probed for the bullet but were unable to locate the biggest piece. They removed several smaller particles; however, and say that if David's condition is good today they'll let him go home without removing the other piece of bullet. The doctors say that the bullet will be harmless.

David was graduated from Bristol high school in June where he played football and baseball. He is employed as a laboratory worker at Rohm & Haas.

CHEMISTRY IN WAR

The big role that chemistry plays in every role vital to the war effort was pointed out the other day by Gen. Anthony C.
McAuliffe—the man who said “nuts” to the Germans at Bastogne. As chief chemical officer, Department of the Army, General McAuliffe enlarged on what Chemical Corps troops are doing in the front line in Korea.

The infantry is supporting combat operations with the 4.2
rifled mortar developed by the Chemical Corps. The Air Force is using napalm and incendiary bombs supplied by the Chemical Corps, and its pilots are guided by colored smoke grenades used for ground-to-air signaling. The Navy also uses napalm for fire bombs. It screens amphibious operations, like the one that recently took Inchon, with floating oil smoke pots, and hides ship concentrations, ports and docks with larger smoke screens produced by Chemical Corps smoke generators.
The Marines get special fuels and flame-throwers from the corps.

All these are recent products of chemical enterprise.
Many of them were used in World War II. But warfare has become increasingly a chemical operation ever since the gun replaced the sword. All fire used in war, from the campfires of Caesar's legions and the Greek fire used against naval armadas to the most-modern incendiary bombs, is a chemical reaction. So are all explosions not produced by nuclear fission.
Chemical reactions power the internal combustion motor in ships, planes, tanks and vehicles.

Chemical Corps laboratory units now in Korea are analyzing captured materiel, supplies and equipment. The corps is operating a maintenance service in Korea on such equipment as smoke generators, flame throwers and decontamination apparatus. It is a vital part of the nation's defense set-up.

BATTLE FLAGS OF PEACE

Most Americans know either nothing or very little about the war with Mexico in 1847. But south of the border they have never forgotten that war.

To this day one of the sacred places in Chapultepec Castle in Mexico City is the room dedicated to the Mexican cadets who fought the “North American invaders”
in one of the most dramatic battles of the war. There repose relics of the war, revered by all Mexicans who visit the castle.

And so when the United States returns 69 battle flags captured by the Americans in the Mexican War to the Mexican government, this is more than a gesture. To patriotic Mexicans it is a real expression of friendship.

It is not a waste of words to say that these battle flags become really flags of peace, drawing Mexico and the United States into closer rapport.

Among vanished species are the carrier pigeon, the dodo bird and the politician who promised lower taxes.

Regular Customers

In restaurants, food stores, drugstores, and clothing stores throughout Pennsylvania... as well as in movies, service stations, appliance stores, and countless other business establishments... Bell Telephone men and women are regular customers.

This is mighty important to the people who work for these business establishments. It helps provide and maintain jobs for a great many Pennsylvanians. We don't know how many; but we do know that most of the $100 million earned yearly by Bell Telephone people in Pennsylvania is spent within the state.

Thus the money you spend in payment of telephone bills does more than buy good telephone service. It contributes to the good wages and steady employment of thousands of telephone people... and, in turn, benefits many thousands of Pennsylvanians in other lines of work.

DELHAAS JUNIORS WIN EASILY OVER NESHAMINY JRS.

The Delhaas Junior Varsity team smothered the Neshaminy Jayvees, 34-7, yesterday afternoon in a one-sided match on the Bristol Township school field.

Delhaas had a 27-0 lead at the half-time whistle mostly on the playing of Joe Muth, stellar full-back. In the second quarter, Muth picked up a booted ball in the vicinity of the 5-yard line and raced 95 yards for the touchdown. Early in the tilt, he had crossed the goal-line on a 45-yard end run. He also added two touchdowns for the extra points to bring his total points to 14.

The other Delhaas touchdowns were made by Jack Gleason who caught a 13-yard pass from Lester Gibbs; a 50-yard end skirt by Gibbs; and a 5-yard plunge by Jack Petro after a sustained drive of 60 yards. Donald Turner made two more conversions via placements.

Neshaminy scored its six-pointer in the final period after a 50-yard march.

SPADACCINI JOINS ST. ANN'S GRID TEAM

Nick Spadaccini, star halfback of the unbeaten Rider College team of 1949, has joined the St. Ann's A. A. grid team. Spadaccini will hold his first drill with the team this evening as Coach Pete Borneice holds a practice session in the rear of the St. Ann's club-house.

Spadaccini was one of the leading ball carriers for Riders last season. He carried the pigskin 60 times and gained a total of 413 yards for an average gain of 6.8 yards per try.

Spadaccini, now residing in Bristol and employed by the Rohm & Haas plant, is one of the new additions garnered by Coach Borneice since his team was beaten by the Olney Vets last Thursday.

Joe Andriotti, former Northeast Catholic High star, is also practicing and will see action this week.

The "Saints" will meet the fast Rockne A. A. team Saturday night on the Bristol high school field, starting at 8:15 o'clock. Rockne held Tacony Boys Club to a 7-0 score Sunday.

JAYVEES LOSE TO PENNSBURY

The Bristol High Jayvees lost to Pennsbury's JV's, 6-0, yesterday, on the local gridiron. Both teams played fine ball with the Falcons scoring in the third quarter.

nids farmers throughout the county, who are finding similar symptoms among the herds.

A very large buttonwood tree, not so far from the mansion house, was measured at 25 ft. 8 in., having grown some 16 inches since 1935, when noted by the association. The immense bole divides not far from the ground. It grows by a spring and therefore has become larger than even many older "Penn trees" (which it is not so considered). An unusual planting of Franklina trees in good bloom was enjoyed.

At the Paul Patton Farm, at Flushing, a second buttonwood was seen. This had been planted as a sapling by William Rodman by a spring as he returned from a horseback ride. The date is given by W. W. H. Davis History as 1741. It has grown almost a foot since 1933—now being over 28 ft. It, however, shows signs of great decay. It, like the Bolton tree, divides rather quickly into two parts. It is not as old as "Penn trees," but it is declared to be the largest tree in Pennsylvania. It was interesting to have in the group two people who were related to said Rodman, he being the great-great-uncle of Mrs. Henry Fowler and Miss Lillias Keim.

A third sycamore was measured that being at Bucks Co. Glass Co. property at Huimeville. It was much smaller but less divided and in better health than the other two.

Luncheon was enjoyed at Langhorne Terrace, the home of E. A. Elthine, on the banks of the Neshaminy, an ideal place for birds with many houses and stations. Seven canaries and two parrots in the large living room added to the entertainment.

At the home of Axel A. Olsson, Stump Bridge road, near Featherstone, the next stop was made. Mr. Olsson is a noted geologist and paleontologist. He does not collect shells as a hobby (which is the case with many association members) but he studies them from many angles and specializes on fossil forms also. He exhibited a considerable collection of univalves and bivalves, mostly from the West Indies and South American countries, but he included several from Pacific areas. The Cephalopoda, with the exception of the chambered nautilus, have no shells—the octopus and squid being of this class. Pelagic mollusks are free swimmers—on the water's surface. Coils in shells almost universally turn to the right—busycan perversa being an exception. A good collection of tree snails from tropical areas were also shown. A shell that was noted in the Crusade period was the pecten. The cockle of nursery rhyme was a heart-shaped bivalve. A creature living in a shell lays an egg of good size—borus—or strophochelus ovatus. Zonus textile was described as a very poisonous Pacific variety. The spirula live 1000 fathoms down. Some beautiful pearl oysters were noted. Mr. Olson's talk will doubtless awaken renewed interest in this line of nature study.

The last stop was at Iron Works Creek Reservoir, near Churchville, where Lester Thomas pointed out many botany specimens—various types of golden-rod and asters, turtle head, wool grass, and whorled milkwort. A song sparrow's nest was found in the grasses and the place pointed out where recently was found a grasshopper sparrow's nest. A Fowler frog, a muskrat trail, an American egret, and mallard ducks were final animals seen.

The next session will be held October 28th at Council Rock Auditorium, Newtown.

Date of the Delaware Valley Nature Club dinner meeting is November 11th in Philadelphia.

Navy Man and Langhorne Miss Take Wedding Vows

LANGHORNE, Oct. 3 — The clergyman who officiated at the marriage of Miss Margaret A. Beary, Langhorne, and Mr. Angus Bush Thomas, of the U. S. Navy, stationed at Johnsville, on Saturday, was the Rev. Horace R. Hoffman. The ceremony took place in Langhorne Methodist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Beary, this borough, and Mr. Thomas' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Shelley Thomas, of Headland, Ala. Mr. Beary escorted his daughter down the church aisle.

Mrs. Herbert Weber was matron of honor for her sister; and Miss Catherine Griffin the bridesmaid. Others in the bridal party were Mr. Emanuel Diaz, USN, Johnsville, as best man; and Mr. Marvin Shissman, USN, Johnsville, usher.

The parish house of St. James' Episcopal Church was the setting for the reception, after which the newlyweds left for the Pocono mountains. They will make their home at Ivyland.

The bridegroom is an aviation electronic technician, 2nd class; and his wife is employed by the Bell Telephone Co. here.

PLAN FOR DINNER

Bucks County Salon, No. 74, S. N. 40 Societe, held its September meeting in Robert W. Bracken post home on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Walter Strouse, Tullytown, presided. Letters of thanks for gifts were received from two patients at Hanburg. Plans are being made for a dinner on Nov. 1st in the Soby Post country club home, Langhorne, at seven p. m. Members desiring to attend are requested to phone Bristol 2865 not later than October 25th. At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Strouse and Mrs. Leo Riley, the latter of Croydon.

intended a determined resistance at present.

He said though that in the past 10 days antiaircraft fire over Pyongyang and other places had increased markedly in both volume and accuracy.

While Stratmeyer talked in his Tokyo headquarters, field reports said that three fighters had been downed over North Korea yesterday.

The general recapitulated the air war to date over Korea. He said 1,659 tanks had been destroyed or damaged, Maj. Gen. Otto P. Weyland, FEAR's vice commander in charge of operations, said that was roughly the number of tanks Gen. George Patton had in Europe to the best of his recollection.

Stratmeyer said the United Nations gave him authority June 29 to attack targets above the 38th Parallel "because they were hitting me from there." He refused to answer the question of whether the U. N. authority had been given before or after his B-29s crossed the boundary.

The general said that the success of jet fighters in ground support had proved the Air Force was correct in discarding conventional types for jet fighters. He said Mustang losses were four times as great as losses of jet fighters in Korea.

Most Beloved Car in the World!

Ask the owner of a 1950 Cadillac whether he expects his next car to carry the same proud name—and the chances are he will find it difficult to believe you are serious.

It simply never occurs to him that any other car could take the place of his beloved Cadillac.

And this deep respect for Cadillac goes far beyond its owners. In fact, it overflows the whole of America.

A survey just completed indicates that almost half of all the motor car owners in the United States would buy a Cadillac if they felt it suited to their economic situation.

Surely, there has been no finer example of quality's ability to hold the respect and regard of the American people.

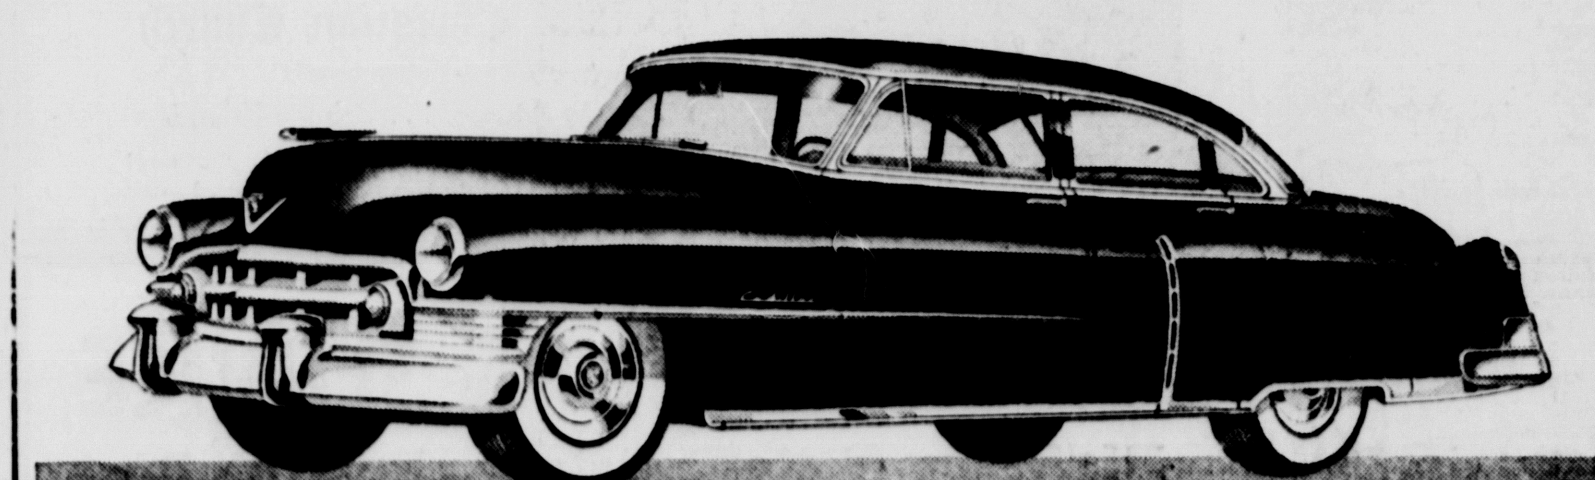

We wish that all who want a Cadillac could own one. And we know that more would purchase Cadillacs if only they would properly evaluate these basic facts:

—the lower-priced cars in the Cadillac line cost less to buy than certain models of numerous other makes.

—you can drive a Cadillac all day long, under normal conditions, on a single tankful of gasoline.

—a Cadillac car is designed so well, and is so soundly built, that its lifespan has never been fully measured.

Why not pay us a visit soon—and see for yourself? We are sure you're closer to "The Standard of the World" than you ever thought you were!
